Plan Definitions

Fixed Annuity - An investment vehicle offered by an insurance company, that guarantees a stream of fixed payments over the life of the annuity. The insurer takes the investment risk, also called fixed dollar annuity.

Variable Annuity - A life insurance annuity contract which provides future payments to the holder (the annuitant), usually at retirement, the size of which depends on the performance of the portfolio's securities. The insured, takes the investment risk.

Mutual Fund - An open-ended fund operated by an investment company, which raises money from shareholders and invests in a group of assets, in accordance with a stated set of objectives. Mutual funds then take the money they receive from the sale of their shares and use it to purchase various investment vehicles, such as stocks, bonds and money market instruments. For most mutual funds, shareholders are free to sell their shares at any time, although the price of a share in a mutual fund will fluctuate daily, depending upon the performance of the securities held by the fund. Benefits of mutual funds include diversification and professional money management. Mutual funds offer choice, liquidity, and convenience, but charge fees and often require a minimum investment. There are many types of mutual funds, including aggressive growth fund, asset allocation fund, balanced fund, blend fund, bond fund, capital appreciation fund, equity fund, global fund, growth fund, growth and income fund, income fund, index fund, international fund, money market fund, municipal bond fund, sector fund, stock fund, and tax-free bond fund.

Fund Prospectus - A legal document offering securities or mutual fund shares for sale, which explains the offer, including the terms, issuer, objectives, historical financial statements, and other information that could help an individual decide whether the investment is appropriate for him/her.

Annual Percentage Yield (APY) - The rate of return on an investment for a one-year period.

Management Fee - A charge paid to managers of a mutual fund for their services; usually also includes fund administration costs and investor relations. Expressed as a percentage charge usually between .5% and 2.0% of total fund assets.

Front End Load - A sales charge paid when an individual buys an investment, such as a mutual fund or annuity. The purpose of a load is to cover administrative expenses and transaction costs and sometimes to discourage asset turnover. Normally loads are 3% to 5% of the total investment contribution.

No Load Fund - A mutual fund which doesn't impose a sales or redemption charge, selling and redeeming its shares at net asset value, opposite of a load fund.

Redemption/Surrender Charge - A fee imposed for terminating an annuity contract prior to its maturity, usually imposed on withdrawals/redemptions during the first 10 years of investor participation, expressed as a percentage against the amount withdrawn, normally between 1% and 7%.

Dollar Cost Averaging - An investment strategy designed to reduce volatility in which mutual funds or securities are purchased in fixed dollar amounts at regular intervals, regardless of what direction the market is moving.
